THE DYNAMICS OF GREECE IN LOGISTICS AND INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

With Greece having established itself in the consciousness of foreign investors, as one of the stable destinations for large foreign investments (as evidenced by the relevant data of EU studies, the country is in the 29th place internationally) and the logistics sector is the third in order for the economy to choose to invest, the future looks more auspicious for the wider supply chain industry.

Despite the disruptions brought about by the SARS-Cov-19 pandemic, international supply chains seemed to be resilient and continuing to evolve to become more and more cost-effective for the end consumer. In Greece, there is still a bright field of glory for investments and development in the fields of robotic automation, artificial intelligence, digitization of the individual functions of the supply chain, but also the connectivity with logistics infrastructures, shopping centers, etc. A wide "palette" of financial tools has emerged recently, offering great opportunities for domestic and international companies to invest, while the concepts of "synergy" and "collaborative platforms" are the future of the industry. ## PARALLEL LIVE STREAMING OF THE EXHIBITION via INTERNET

IMPLEMENTING A HYBRID PROMOTION MODEL FOR 2021

In the organization of the 2021 exhibition, an important role will be played by technology so that it operates in a double "Hybrid" way, ie with a live broadcast of the exhibition to professionals who will choose to stay at their place or will want to visit it online from abroad.

More specifically, throughout the exhibition, there will be a live broadcast from the exhibitors' stands, events and conferences, based on a specific daily program of promotion through the internet, and a special platform for viewing similar events, which will enable any interested professional to watch it remotely from Greece, Cyprus or abroad, free of charge, from his computer.

In fact, "online" visitors will have the opportunity to communicate via live chatting or teleconference, in real time, with the exhibitor present at that time, or even with the panel of speakers at conferences.

The use of this technology will attract thousands of additional visitors without geographical restrictions, who are unable to attend in person at the exhibition venues, as they will be given the opportunity to watch it in real time, and even communicate with the exhibitors live. Also, in this online platform, exhibitors will have the opportunity to post promotional videos with their products and services, to become more clear to their potential customers who visit the exhibition online, while there will be the possibility for live web cam inside from within the stands. O.MIND CREATIVES has already successfully applied this technology to digital conferences and events that it holds since June 2020.

SECURITY MEASURES

The exhibitions "SUPPLY CHAIN & LOGISTICS" and "CARGO TRUCK & VAN" will be held in accordance with the Health Protocol that will be in force in the fall of 2021 by the National Organization for the Public Health (ΕΟΔΥ) for the organization of trade fairs and the rules for distance keeping in public places in order to restrict the spread of Covid-19. Metropolitan Expo exhibition center, which hosts the exhibition, has obtained the COVID-SHIELD certification from TÜV Austria, which ensures that all health rules set by the State will be applied. Metropolitan Expo has already adopted and implemented a process of automatic thermometry of visitors before entering the premises of the exhibition center, antiseptic stations, procedures and distance marking and a series of necessary measures to create a safe exhibition environment for professionals. Detailed reports on the protection measures that will be in force and implemented will be given to exhibitors and visitors in a timely manner, before the opening of the exhibition.

3rd EXHIBITION OF COMMERCIAL VEHICLES “CARGO TRUCK & VAN EXPO”

The Commercial Vehicle Becomes Green

The Commercial Car sector and the “green” solutions offered by the big automakers in the management of the modern Supply Chain will have a dynamic presence and will again attract the increased interest of transport companies and professional motorists. International transport tractors, distribution trucks, urban transport van and pick-up will be presented in the Greek market and will fill Hall 4 of the Metropolitan Expo exhibition center. Also, bodies, superstructures, cooling chambers, tachographs, telematics and consumables for commercial vehicles will frame the area of the exhibition CARGO TRUCK & VAN EXPO.

Nowadays, the scene in road transport has changed. Transport companies and commercial companies are creating large fleets of vehicles and adapting to the European guidelines for Euro 6 technology vehicles. All this change is fully applicable in the logistics and transport sector, and entrepreneurs are now the ones looking to invest in new and modern fleets.

The connection of the exhibition “SUPPLY CHAIN & LOGISTICS” with the exhibition section “CARGO TRUCK & VAN EXPO” has been proven and characterized as successful by the participants -based on the measurable results of the previous events- for the promotion of brand new commercial vehicles in the new era of logistics that Greece enters.

Reduced carbon footprint is the bet at present. The shift to green energy, electricity and reduced CO2 emissions is the trend today and the demand of tomorrow. At the 2021 event, exhibitors will present alternative energy sources for commercial transport vehicles as well as for the operation of warehouses. The demand of all of us is the reduction of the negative environmental effects and the operation of efficient and energy efficient systems using alternative energy sources. The supply chain and freight transport must provide solutions and implement “Green Supply Chains” more than ever.
